POCONO XTERRA RACE #5- GOULDSBORO STATE PARK

The Wendy's Pocono Xterra Trail Run Series concluded on Saturday on the beach at Gouldsboro State Park. A field of over 60 runners tackled the beach, forest, rocks, boulders and endless climbs of the 8K course before ending on the sand at Gouldsboro Lake. Regional trail running standout Tony Korch conquered the course in an astounding 38:46 and Jaclyn Stokey from Jim Thorpe won top female honors with a time of 43:57.

Following the race awards were presented to the series champions: 19-year old James Ryan from Wilkes Barre and 34-year old Jaclyn Stokey. These two runners will lead a contingent of six local athletes to the Xterra National Trail Running Championships in Ogden Utah this September. The other runners heading west to represent NEPA are Jill Hildebrand, Brian Barchick, Paul Marks, and Eric Sambolec.

"I don't know if northeast Pennsylvania has ever had so many runners present at a national championship event like this" said Wilkes Barre Racing's Rich Pais. "Trail running is exploding in popularity across the nation and northeast Pennsylvania has some of the most challenging trails in the eastern United States – I think our runners will do great against the best in the country!"

The Wendy's Pocono Xterra Trail Run Series attracted over 300 runners from 14 states and is already getting the schedule ready for the Spring of 2013.
